From Yesterday's Evening Edition

ATLANTA, MAY 13, 1873.

POMOLOGICAL.—The regular meeting of the Pomological Society was held Saturday. President John R. Wallace filled the chair. After a few chaste remarks he announced the Society ready for business.

Dr. S. Hape and Rev. J. E. Godfrey were appointed a committee to secure a suitable Hall for meeting.

Mr. Moses Cole, of the Atlanta Nurseries, exhibited eight varieties of strawberries.

The Charles Downing he considered a rising variety, of good reputation, regular, a heavy bearer and tolerably early.

Longworth's Prolific was only valuable from its coming in so early.

Russell's Prolific was a larger berry and a better bearer.

The Triumph De Gand was one of the finest varieties, well flavored, a strong grower, and a first class bearer.

Some growers estimate the Agriculturist very highly, but he thought it one of our finest.

The Jucunda varies so much in different localities that he cannot recommend it. South of this point it is liable to burn up.

The Napoleon III. is a valuable berry for this section—is a strong grower, bears up from the ground, stands the sun and drought.

Lenning's White is the pet berry of amateurs; fine flavor; sparse bearer.

Mr. Cole exhibited the limb containing forty-five cherries sent him from Huntsville, Ala., mentioned in THE CONSTITUTION a few days ago. The cherry is evidently one of the "Duke's."

A Shockley apple, raised by Mr. Smith, of Cobb county, was exhibited. Mr. Smith expects to keep these apples until apples come again.

Mr Jennings exhibited the Governor Wood cherry, and President Wallace a cherry, name unknown.

After a desultory discussion of minor topics, the Society adjourned until next Saturday.

ACCEPTED.

About one hundred and thirty Congressmen have accepted the invitation to attend the Congressional Conference to be held here next week. Every State in the Union, except one or two, is to be represented. There is reason to believe that much larger numbers from the Eastern States would have accepted the invitation if it had not been for the reports put in circulation that the Conference intended to embrace only Congressmen from the Western and Southern States. An invitation has been sent to every member of both branches of Congress, and the intention was, and is, that the gathering should fully represent the Congress of the U. S. No action is expected to be taken by the convention, nor will any proposition be submitted requiring a vote or designed to commit any member to any line of policy or act of legislation. The whole purpose of the conference is comprehended in the idea that Congressmen assembled in an informal manner. An invitation of the city of St. Louis should have presented to them a practical statement of the necessities of the West and South for an improved and cheap water transportation to the sea board, and in connection with this event should enjoy the hospitalities of the city and have an opportunity, by means of railroad excursion and otherwise, to see a considerable portion of the Mississippi Valley under the most pleasant auspices. The merchants and people of St. Louis disclaim any narrow or sectional spirit in this matter, and extend a hearty invitation to members of Congress from every section of the Union to be present.

A dispatch to the New York Tribune says, during the past few days a member of the Cabinet has said the President has become thoroughly in earnest in regard to Louisiana affairs; that the difficulties in that State would speedily be brought to a close; that he had returned with the full determination of taking some decisive action. His adhesion to Kellogg's assumption is more marked than ever, and he will go to any length and authority to sustain it.

A CONSULTATION.

On Saturday evening the President held a long consultation with General Sherman, Attorney General Williams, and Secretary Robeson, at which time the New Orleans troubles was thoroughly discussed, and high-handed measures were suggested, to which the President attentively listened, and which will probably be carried out before the close of the present week.

The Administration is unable to understand why Mr. Kellogg does not make a requisition for Federal troops, as it is claimed that he has a perfect right to do in the absence of the legislature, to maintain peace and assist the civil authorities in administering the laws. It is said that he is the proper judge to determine whether there is any condition in society that required an interference of the army, and that any aid he might require would be promptly furnished so far as the President is concerned.

It is not the President's intention to take any energetic action until this requisition is made by Kellogg, and it is hoped he will make the demand without further delay. As soon as the requisition is made, the President will issue a proclamation in most positive language, admonishing the citizens of Louisiana to peace, deposing the McEnery government and proclaiming Kellogg as lawful Governor, and announcing the intention of the Executive to sustain Kellogg with the whole military force of the country, if necessary.

This proclamation is to be accompanied with an order to send all available troops to report to General Emery at New Orleans.

The proclamation will be in such language that it will be susceptible of no doubtful meaning, and will convey as plain as words can the determination of the President as above set forth.

The action proposed, it is said, meets with the hearty approval of Attorney General Williams.

☞ The hard fortune of Dr. Bertram, late Consul at Montevideo, is attracting attention. His salary was just $1,000 a year, while the expenses of himself and family could not be brought below $6,000 a year in that expensive capital. He actually made one small loaf subsist his entire family for three days. A charitable American captain carried him to New York; and the Doctor thus describes his final interview with Secretary Fish: "I told him that an American Consul to the republic of Uruguay must steal or starve. He replied that he knew it, and asked me which I did. I replied that I starved because there was no chance for me to steal. He bowed profoundly, and again tendered me the hearty sympathy of the State Department."

It was sad to think that the poor man, so far away from home, had no chance to steal; and the responsive heart of the Secretary yielded him official sympathy.

The Louisiana Matter.

The indications are that Grant means an effectual interference with the Louisiana people in their effort to resist the tyranny of the Kellogg government. He seems determined to uphold Kellogg at all cost.

Enough has been done to show two essential facts. First, The people are against the Kellogg government. Second, The Kellogg government is totally unable to maintain itself alone. These facts demonstrate the violation of popular right involved in the despotic and illegal erection of the Kellogg power, and in the maintenance of that power against popular will and lawful authority by the Federal administration.

It is proper in all these unavailing struggles of local right against Federal tyranny which are making the age to keep preserved the historic truth.

It will help us hereafter when the better day shall come to hold up the lesson of tyranny for the good of the people, and to put the hand of historic condemnation on the dynasty like Grant's, that uses its power to oppress.

The American Department.

One week ago or thereabouts, we were represented at Vienna by the following interesting articles: Two cases of Colt's fire-arms, three binnacles, one stuffed eagle, two salt cellars, one dentist's chair, six bottles of water taken from the Mississippi, four suspended Commissioners and nine more too stupid for action of any kind. What a proud spectacle for the 21,000 sons of freedom who have either sailed or engaged passage. Heretofore we have washed our dirty linen at home, but there were not enough home places to go around, and so the beauties of "addition, division and silence" have been produced at Vienna. One Commissioner is a defaulting tax collector from Pennsylvania, and the whole lot are political shysters.

Republican institutions are made ridiculous before the princes and princelings, and champions of monarchy by these disreputable appointments of an administration pledged to inaugurate a reformed civil service. While the people of France and Spain are struggling to establish republican forms of government, we are affording their enemies the strongest kind of practical arguments with which to undermine faith in popular government. It is a burning shame; but perhaps the deeper the disgrace, the sooner the people will hurl the men who have brought it upon us from the places they dishonor.

Moral Suasion.

New York is enjoying a short spell of it. One day last week, the detectives simultaneously visited the gambling saloons, and at their friendly nod every one of them closed their doors. The white, red, yellow and blue checks of the faro banks rested quietly under white cloths, and all sorts of odd signs were pasted on the doors. The adherents of the game discussed the new raid with downcast countenances. "You see," said one of the proprietors, "when a man has been in this business so long, he cannot go into any legitimate business. It takes too long to establish a basis—to get up a good character." The gamblers generally believe that it will soon blow over. Superintendent Kelso is of the contrary opinion.

The rattling of the ivories was stopped even in the big games up town, where the heaviest betting on record is done by moneyed men. As a consequence the theaters and corridors of the hotels were much more crowded than usual by the frequenters of the green table—to say nothing of the 2,000 superbly dressed young men that the cruel raid of the police has thrown out of employment. Large numbers of the houseless keno players loitered aimlessly throughout the evening, speculating on the probable duration of Mayor Havemeyer's "spasm of virtue." The Bowery games were all closed, as were the negro games in Thompson and Sullivan streets, and the Chinese games.

Moral suasion is working beautifully up to the latest accounts; and if it succeeds in Gotham, there is a forlorn hope that the gamblers can be made to respect the law in other and smaller towns. The spectacle in New York is a wonderful one. Not a single gambling house is open in the city; and yet only two gamblers have been arrested—both negroes. Let us have a dose of moral suasion, too. Let us measure the real value of our own law, and of our police. What do you say, Mr. Mayor?

☞ Said the New York Evening Post: "Twenty American newspapers have exchanged the folio for the quarto form within three years, and the Baltimore Gazette is to be the twenty-first."

THE BEECHER-TILTON MATTER.

The Latest Phase of this Notorious Affair.

Mrs. Woodhull About to be Corroborated.

[From the Savannah News.]

The recent controversy which took place between Bowen, of the Brooklyn Union, also of the Independent, and one Thomas Kinsella, in regard to certain scandals affecting the wife of the latter, has resulted in some entirely new developments in the Beecher-Tilton affair—an affair, the details of which were first embalmed in print by the notorious Victoria Woodhull. The majority of our readers, doubtless, remember the extraordinary story of Mrs. Woodhull, and the charges she makes against Rev. Beecher. The truth or falsity of those charges has never yet been established, and the pious Puritan has continued to give regular Sunday theatricals in his pulpit to the great delight of the large and enthusiastic audiences who frequent that popular resort. Mr. Beecher has never, by word or sign, shown that he was cognizant of the story so seriously related by Mrs. Woodhull, but through the influence of some of his friends, Woodhull and Claflin, women and men, were arrested by the United States Commissioner on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. They were imprisoned in the Tombs for a season, subjected to the formality of a trial, and finally discharged. Mrs. Woodhull made every endeavor to be tried under an indictment for libel, but the interested parties were either too shrewd to give her this advantage, or they thought the game too small. In any case, it is certain that no trial for libel took place, and so the question whether the relations between Mr. Beecher and the wife of Theodore Tilton were what Mrs. Woodhull had charged, or whether they were only such as should exist between a pious pastor and an affectionate member of his flock, was kept out of the courts.

But the recent heated discussion between the Brooklyn papers has brought the matter once more before the public, and in a shape that admits of some notice at our hands. Henry C. Bowen, one of the parties to the libel suit recently instituted by Fields, the particulars of which have already appeared in our columns, is proprietor and publisher of the Independent, a religious weekly, of which Theodore Tilton was for some time the editor. For some reason or other Tilton was notified by Bowen that his resignation as editor of the Independent would be accepted. This sudden change of relationship between Bowen and Tilton, who had formerly been so intimate, was the subject of much discussion, and as each had his little faction of retainers, a good deal of ill-feeling resulted. Tilton immediately started the publication of a paper in opposition to the Independent, calling it, not inappropriately, the Golden Age. In this paper, in explanation of the reasons which had caused his resignation of the editorship of the Independent, Mr. Tilton reproduced a letter which he had written to Bowen immediately after he had been notified by the latter that his services were no longer required. The letter is a very remarkable document. Tilton accuses Bowen of intimating to him in the early part of the rebellion that Henry Ward Beecher had committed acts of adultery which, if they could only be known, would drive him from the pulpit. Tilton then goes on to quote an extract from a letter written to him by Bowen, dated Woodstock, June 16, 1863. This extract is as follows:

"I sometimes feel that I must break silence; that I must no longer suffer as a dumb man and be made to bear a load of grief most unjustly. One word from me would make —— a rebellion throughout Christendom, I had almost said, and you know it. You have just a little of the evidence from the great volume in my possession. I am not pursuing a phantom—but solemnly brooding over an awful reality."

Subsequent to this, Bowen, according to Mr. Tilton, reiterated his former statements and said that he could at any moment expel Mr. Beecher from Brooklyn. Bowen furthermore remarked, in the presence of Tilton and Oliver Johnson, that Mr. Beecher was an unsafe visitor in the families of his congregation, and stated, according to Tilton's testimony, that Beecher had made to him (Bowen) a confession of guilt, and had, with tears, implored Bowen's forgiveness. Bowen then recited a particular case wherein Mr. Beecher had sinned, the details of which are too indelicate for reproduction here. During this recital (it should be borne in mind that we are condensing from Mr. Tilton's letter) Bowen was filled with righteous rage against the pastor of Plymouth Church, and said that he ought not to remain a week longer in his pulpit. Bowen also volunteered to bear an open letter to Mr. Beecher demanding "that he should, for reasons which he explicitly knew, immediately cease from his ministry at Plymouth Church and retire from Brooklyn." A letter containing, among other things, the language which we have put in quotation marks, was accordingly drafted, and Bowen carried it to Mr. Beecher, presenting it to him at the house of Mr. Freeland. But the result was hardly what might have been expected. The nature of the interview between Messrs. Beecher and Bowen is only left to conjecture, but shortly there after Bowen appeared in Tilton's presence and endeavored to exert from him, under penalty of immediate discharge from the editorship of the Independent, a promise that Mr. Beecher should never be informed of the statements which Bowen had made, and that the evidence which Bowen possessed should never be adduced to sustain the demand contained in the letter presented to Mr. Beecher.

This is about the amount of Mr. Tilton's explanation—an explanation which our readers will argue is extraordinary in every particular. But still more extraordinary, when taken in connection with the statement of Mrs. Woodhull. It should be remembered that soon after Mr. Tilton commenced the Golden Age, he became the firm friend and avowed champion of Victoria Woodhull, introducing her to his family, endorsing her free-love views and heresies, and finally capping this curious species of gallantry by writing a biography of Mrs. Woodhull. Our readers must draw their own conclusions.

It will be remembered that Mr. Tilton states in his letter, of which we have given a brief abstract in the foregoing, that Bowen's note demanding Mr. Beecher's immediate retirement from the pulpit of Plymouth Church was presented to the latter at the house of Mr. Freeland, who is a prominent member of Beecher's Church, as well as a Federal office-holder. A reporter of the Eagle newspaper called upon Mr. Freeland and endeavored to get at the facts in the case. The Bohemian asked Mr. Freeland whether the latter had been delivered to Mr. Beecher. To this question Mr. Freeland, who seems to be a saintly sort of person, refused an answer, thus, by his silence, making this mysterious and suspicious affair still more misterious and suspicious. We append the concluding portion of the interview:

Reporter—If the story of the meeting is false, you would not be contributing in any way to the spread of the slander by saying so. Now, the only question I want answered is this: Did Henry C. Bowen and Mr. Beecher meet here under the circumstances described?

Collector—My dear sir, I told you before I am for peace—peace all the time, and I don't want to do anything on the subject. I believe in forgiveness—forgiveness to my worst enemies—and so believing, I don't feel at liberty to speak.

Reporter—You are not more interested in the fair fame of Mr. Beecher than the Eagle is; we believe him innocent; we believe this whole story against him is a villainous slander that should be throttled and trampled in the dust.

Collector [rather excited]—It will be upset, rest assured of that. The right is bound to come uppermost.

Reporter—But you don't care to state what you know in order to bring it up.

Collector [the old gentleman again looked at the Eagle reporter with tears in his eyes and answered]—As a Christian I cannot.

We omitted to mention in the proper connection that Mr. Tilton, in response to numerous inquiries in regard to the truth or falsity of the statement of Mrs. Woodhull, wrote a letter which was published in the Morning News last year, in which he intimates that while the story is capable of explanation such a course would necessitate other exposures, and rather than "harrow the hearts of dear friends," he prefers to bear the burden of his grief alone.

It is only necessary to add, in concluding this little narration of Christian life in Brooklyn, that while the Eagle, from which the interview with Mr. Freeland is taken, is a firm champion of Mr. Beecher and discredits the story, the editor says that it is incumbent upon the pastor of Plymouth Church, both as a Christian and a good citizen, to deny and disprove the statement. But up to this time, Mr. Beecher has not thought proper to take that course.

REESIDE.

BY MAX ADELER.

There can be no doubt that Reeside had genius, but it was of an impracticable kind. When I knew him he devoted all of his time to labor and invention, and he was constantly turning out amazing machines which never did anything when they were turned out.

Down at the Patent Office they got so at last that when a new model and specifications would come along from Reeside, the Commissioner and clerks would grant him a patent on the spot, for they knew, from a rich and generous experience, that when Reeside invented anything it was perfectly certain to be unlike any other contrivance ever conceived by the mind of fallen man; and they were aware, at any rate, that nobody who was sane enough to be at large would ever want to interfere with Reeside's exclusive right to pin together such a bewildering and useless lot of cranks and axles and wheels. I think Reeside had about two hundred patents of various kinds; and besides the machines and dodges thus protected by the law, he owned scores of others which were never heard of in Washington or anywhere else but at Reeside's home.

They were always getting him into trouble. That "burglar annihilator" of his, for instance, filled him with gloom and remorse for years. Several houses in his neighborhood had been robbed, and Reeside made up his mind to checkmate any attempt to rifle his residence. So he bought half a dozen old musket-barrels, and a few sections of gas-pipe, and rigged this up inside of his front door, with the muzzle pointing toward the street. Then he loaded the affair with ball cartridge, and invented some kind of mysterious street trigger, which was fixed to the door knob, so that whoever tried to enter would meet with certain death. He set the "annihilator" one night, and by the next morning he forgot exactly how the secret trigger was arranged, so he was afraid to venture near the machine, and the family were compelled to go out and in through the kitchen.

The "annihilator" remained there two weeks, and during that time the house was entered eight times by burglars, who roamed recklessly through the chambers, waxed fat in the pantry, held receptions in the parlor, disported themselves gayly upon the stairs, and had bacchanalian revels in the dining room, without going near the front door once. And when Reeside had become nearly insane with fury at these riotous festivities, his aunt called one day, and making too boisterous a demonstration at the door-knob, touched off the "annihilator," and was carried upstairs insensible, with four pounds of bullets in her venerable legs. She walks yet on a pair of Reeside's patent crutches.

He never succeeded with these things. That patent roof of his was a bad failure. The shingles leaked, and so he covered them with concrete to the depth of three or four inches. In winter time it was elegant; but when the hot weather came, the stuff softened, and the neighbors used to stop to look at the thousands of long black strings of tar which dripped from the eaves to the ground. And early in the summer Reeside and his wife began to be annoyed by the animated discussions of the cats in the neighborhood. The more he "shooed" them and flung his boots at them, the more fierce and awful were their yells. Night after night it continued to grow more terrific, and day after day Mr. Reeside observed that the mysterious caterwauling continued through the daylight.

At last, one moonlight night, the uproar became so outrageous that Reeside arose from his bed and determined to ascertain precisely the cause of the disturbance. It appeared to him that the noise came from the top of the house. He went up to the garret and put his head out of the trap door. There he found one hundred and ninety-six cats stuck fast knee deep in the concrete. Some of them had been there eleven days; and when they perceived Reeside, the whole one hundred and ninety-six doubled up their spines, ruffled their back hair, brandished their tails, and gave one wild, unearthly scream, which shocked Reeside's nerves so much that he dropped the trap door and fell down the ladder upon the head of Mrs. Reeside, who, courageous and devoted woman that she was, standing below dressed in a thing with a frill on it, and armed with a palm leaf fan and a bed slat, resolutely determining that nothing should harm Horatio while she was by.

Reeside had a kind of "den" of his own in the garret. He used to shut himself up in this for hours together, while he perfected his inventions or conducted his chemical investigations. His last idea was that he could put together a compound which would rule gunpowder out of the market and make the destruction of armies and navies comparatively easy. And so, for a time, Mrs. Reeside, while bustling about in the vicinity of the den, instead of hearing the buzz and hum of wheels, and the click of the hammer, would sniff terrific smells evolved by the irrepressible Reeside from the contents of his laboratory. And one day there came a fearful explosion. The roof was torn off and reduced to splinters, and Reeside had disappeared. Reeside's dwelling was in the town of Kingston, New Jersey. Kingston is in Middlesex county, but it is also immediately upon the boundary line between the counties of Somerset and Mercer.

And so it was not surprising when, a few moments after the explosion, persons in all three of the counties perceived fragments apparently of a demoralized and disintegrated human being tumbling from the air. The pieces of the unhappy victim were unevenly distributed between Somerset, Mercer and Middlesex. The last named got twelve of the fragments. There were persons who thought Reeside might have shown even greater partiality for his own county, but I do not blame him; he was, in a measure, controlled by circumstances.

Letter from Milton County.

ALPHARETTA, GA., May 6, 1873.

A portion of the citizens of Milton county met to-day at the court-house for the purpose of appointing delegates to represent said county in the convention to be held at Atlanta on the 20th inst.

On motion of G. M. Hook, Judge J. B. McCollum was called to the chair, and W. H. Nesbit requested to act as secretary.

On motion, the chair appointed a committee of three to nominate delegates to said convention, the committee consisting of W. P. Brown, E. J. Camp and H. W. Paris.

After retiring a short time, the committee reported the following names as delegates, viz: A. W. Holcombe, J. W. Nesbit, H. C. Rogers, Jackson Graham, H. W. Paris, H. L. Cunningham, J. B. McCollum, J. G. Cantrell, N. W. H. Cook, R. P. Lackey, G. M. Hook, J. M. Ridgeway, E. J. Camp, W. P. Brown, T. L. Lewis, S. L. Rucker, Ambrey Martin and C. N. Woodall.

A resolution was then adopted in which the citizens pledged themselves to render all the aid they possibly can in procuring the right of way of the Great Western and Atlantic Canal through Milton county.

A resolution was also passed, requesting the press of Atlanta to publish the proceedings of this meeting. The meeting then adjourned.

J. B. MCCOLLUM, Chairman.
W. H. NESBIT, Secretary.

Desperate Duel.

[From the Richmond Enquirer.]

A few days since a difficulty occurred at the Club, between Messrs. J. B. Mordecai and Page McCarthy, two young gentlemen of this city, in which a blow passed from the former to the latter.

A correspondence was promptly opened, and all efforts to effect a reconciliation proving fruitless a meeting was determined upon. The time was fixed for 6 o'clock last evening and the place was selected on the York river railroad, about half a mile from Blakey's mill.

The most profound secrecy was observed, and no intimation of it reached the police until the hour of the meeting had passed and the mischief was done.

The Chief of Police, Major Poe, got wind of the affair about 6 o'clock, and immediately took horse for the scene of action. Arriving there at about 7 o'clock, he discovered the principals stretched on the ground where they had fallen, and four friends and two surgeons with them.

Mr. Mordecai was found to be shot in the abdomen, and is, it is feared, dangerously wounded. Mr. McCarthy received a flesh wound in the thigh, which is not considered serious.

The principals were taken to their respective residences; the friends were arrested and bailed to appear before the police court Monday.

It is said that Colonel W. A. Tabb, of West Virginia, and John J. Meredith were the seconds of Mr. McCarthy; and W. L. Royall and William Trigg for Mordecai.

The weapons used were pistols under the usual code regulations. Owing to the tragic termination of the affair, all the parties connected with it are reticent, so that it was impossible to obtain the particulars of the occurrences on the field.

Remarkable Escape of a Negro.

He is Knocked by a Locomotive Ten Feet in the Air and Thrown Down an Embankment and Only Stunned.

DALTON, May 12, 1873.

Yesterday evening a negro man, while standing on the track of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, just below this city, heard the down passenger train on the Western and Atlantic Railroad coming. The tracks of the two roads run parallel for several miles.

The negro thinking it was a train on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, crossed over to the track of the W. & A. R. R., and walked down the track on an embankment of ten or twelve feet. The cow catcher of the locomotive struck the negro and threw him some ten or twelve feet in the air, and he landed on the side of the embankment where he lay some time apparently dead.

The train was stopped and two scientific gentlemen from your city went to his assistance. They succeeded in soon restoring him to consciousness, and to-day is he going about as usual. His escape seems remarkable, but some assert as the reason that the only injury he received was on the head.

THRILLING INCIDENT ON THE AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

Heroic Conduct of a Fireman.

BUFORD, May 12th, 1873.

This afternoon, near this town, the engineer of the down freight train discovered a little child, about two years old, on the railroad track. The faces of the engineer and fireman blanched with terror as they whistled "down brakes," and saw that it was impossible to check the train in time to save the merry prattler, who stood astride the rail, looking at the approaching train, unconscious of danger, and a pleasant light gleaming from his blue eyes. The suspense seemed terrible, and it is said that the black hair of the engineer is now streaked with gray from the intensity of his dread.

The fireman, however, at the risk of his own life, ran forward on the engine, and leaping forward from the cow-catcher, grasped the child and saved it from a terrible death.

That gallant fireman deserves to be embalmed in song and story for his heroic deed.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

GRANT AND LOUISIANA.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Much having been said concerning the present and prospective action of the President in the troubles of Louisiana, it should be stated, that the President has received no telegram from Governor Kellogg since last Friday, when the condition of affairs was represented as somewhat improved.

While there is no doubt the President would intervene should the Government make application to him for that purpose, and provided the facts should warrant the proceeding. It is, nevertheless, the hope of the President, as he expressed himself to a friend to-night, that all disturbances will soon cease and no such contingency as that contemplated by the Constitution would occur, but if it should, he would take care to act clearly within the limit of the Constitution and laws. Heretofore he had merely sustained the decision of the Courts.

THE M'DONNELL CASE.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The prosecution closed to-day in the examination of McDonnell, the Bank of England forger, and the prisoner's counsel presented a plea for the acquital of McDonnell on the ground that on the 24th of April after a full hearing, McDonnell was legally discharged. The taking of this plea was objected to and the objection was sustained. The motion to strike out the evidence of a majority of the witnesses on the ground that their depositions were ex parte narrative statements, was also overruled.

Court adjourned till Saturday.

The American Dramatic Fund Association held its 25th annual meeting to-day. The receipts during last year amounted to $4,917; expended $1,809. Barlow was elected President.

A Swindling Insurance Company.

Believing it to be a duty which I owe to my fellow-citizens, I take this method of warning them against giving their patronage to the Underwriters' Agency, (composed of the Germania, Hanover, Niagara and Republic) for they have swindled me and will do so with you. I herewith give the facts, which can be proved by many witnesses.

Mr. W. S. Beadles, their Agent, here solicited me to insure in this company my mill house and fixtures. After carefully examining the property, he assessed the policy at $5,636 65, (which is a low estimate,) upon which I paid them 4 per cent. This property was destroyed by fire; and when called upon for a settlement of the policy, they resorted to every artifice to avoid its payment, and their last resort was that there was an irregularity of their agents in making out the assessment; yet not denying that the property destroyed was worth the amount assessed. They refused to pay me but $3,700, which I was compelled to take or be annoyed by tedious litigation.

G. O. WYNN.

Editors Constitution: The above card of G. O. Wynn, of Coweta county, has attracted my attention, and whilst I am adverse to having the business of my company drawn into a newspaper controversy, duty and truth require me to state that the facts of the case do not justify the statement of Mr. Wynn.

As Mr. Wynn's statement is utterly groundless and malicious, he will be afforded an early opportunity to make good in the courts of law the truth of what he says, or to pay the price of his temerity.

The facts in reference to the matter are as follows:

Sometime during last fall, our agent at Newnan, W. S. Beadles, Esq., insured G. O. Wynn's mill and machinery for $5,636 65, taking his (Wynn's) application for the insurance. The agent wrote the policy in accordance with the application, which was as follows: $4,170 on mill house, $1,000 on machinery, mill gearing and fixtures, $233 33 on water wheel, and $233 33 on grain—referring to the application, which was made out by the agent and signed by Mr. Wynn as a part of the contract. On the 28th day of February the property was destroyed by fire. I was notified the next day by the New York office, and on Tuesday evening following, I went down to Newnan, to adjust the loss. I called on Mr. Wynn, and, together with the agent, we selected two of the best contractors and mill-wrights in the country, and two that had assisted to build the mill, and had them to make an estimate on the property to see what it would cost to replace it. Their estimate on the mill house was $3,280 65 only, on which there was an insurance of 4,170, nearly double what the property was worth, and the entire cost of replacing the mill, machinery and fixtures was only $5,200 upon which there was an insurance of $5,636 65. Mr. Wynn says the agent assessed the property. If he will read his application again he will see that the assured assesses the property, and not the agent, and that is what Mr. Wynn has done and in his application he has assessed it at eight thousand five hundred dollars. Mr. Wynn says the company has swindled him, and will do so with others. Now, Messrs. Editors, I would like to know how the company has swindled Mr. Wynn? Let the public bear in mind that Mr. Wynn's insurance on his building, as he estimates it, was $4,170, nearly double what he proved it to be worth. As the estimate of the contractor under oath was $3,280 65 to replace an entire new mill house, this amount we paid on the mill. His insurance on machinery was $1,000. This I paid, as the machinery destroyed was worth that and more; but I apprehend that no sane man would say I ought to have paid him more than he chose to pay a premium for himself. He was paid also $233 33 on water wheel, and $233 33 on grain. This was all he had a right to claim on the wheel and grain. It was all he proved it to be worth. So that I paid him $3,700—all that the property was worth as insured in the policy. If any one was swindled, or sought to be swindled, it was the company and not Mr. Wynn, and his whole difficulty is in the fact that he insured his building, which was very combustible, at nearly double its real value, leaving the machinery, which he no doubt thought less liable to destruction by fire, uncovered. The public will judge, therefore, between Mr. Wynn and the Underwriter's Agency as to their comparative fairness in this transaction. I settled fairly with Mr. Wynn, and have his receipt, and with this explanation refer the question of the honor of the company to an enlightened public, submitting that if I had been at all litigious, I might very well have been justified in taking the judgment of the court upon the question as to Mr. Wynn's right to recover for his mill house over estimated.

COL. JAMES H. NEAL, of the 19th Georgia Regiment, was killed at Kingston, North Carolina, in the last battle, we believe, in which victory crowned the Confederate arms. It was after the surrender of General Lee, but not after the war, as might be inferred from the notice of Sunday.

M., and return from Iceville at 6:30.

KIMBALL HOUSE.—The following we clip from the Savannah Advertiser of Saturday:

This splendid hotel, located in Atlanta, and under the management of Colonel W. M. Nicholls, affords the best accommodations for visitors at all times, and in order to entertain guests during the summer months Colonel Nicholls has had the Kimball newly fitted up with all the appliances necessary to comfort, convenience and pleasure He offers special inducements to families.

The following from the Home Journal, published in Richmond, will convey some idea of how the Kimball and Colonel Nicholls are appreciated by visitors from abroad:

We cannot pass from Atlanta without making kind mention of our host and hostess of the Kimball House, who so generously entertained us during our few day's sojourn among them. This house itself is a magnificent structure, two minutes' walk from the railroad depot, and affords every convenience and comfort to the weary traveler. Colonel W. M. Nicholls, the proprietor, is a most perfect gentleman, and ever watchful of the welfare of his numerous guests.

SCYLLA AND CHARYBDIS.

Exhaustion and Stimulation.

Save! Save! Save! Save! Save!

The effect upon the human system is about the same, whether the cause be exhaustion of the vital forces, or over stimulation. The loss of only a small portion of blood daily without the loss is supplied by nature, will produce gradual exhaustion and end in death. The habit of stimulating the system above its proper equilibrium so weakens the system finally that an increase of the stimulant must be resorted to, or the temperature sinks as far below the proper point as it rose above.

We hear daily complaints of dull times and scarcity of money. Even in New York, the great money-center, under the stimulus of speculation, it rose to 1 per cent. per day. And yet, on every hand, we note no diminution in the purchase of luxuries. The rage for fine dressing has not abated in the least. Railroads have been blocked with freight of every description. Even planters have been seized with the mania, and the purchase of fertilizers has reached an extent never dreamed of, and every supply needed on the farm, and that is everything used, is bought on time, and everything bonded for the debt. The whole future of the country is staked in the coming cotton crop. Should that fail, what then? We should be prepared for that event.

The constant drain upon the country for money to pay for corn, bacon, hay, mules, and fertilizers, is exhausting us. The cotton crop does not supply the deficit. After paying for these supplies and the heavy interest on time sales, the farmer and country is left poorer. The volume of currency going out is larger than that coming in. And it will continue as long as planters pursue the present policy of paying from 2½ to 3 per cent. per month interest on articles they should produce themselves.

Suppose, for instance, they raised their own supplies, and paid cash for the fertilizers they used, should the cotton crop fail they would only lose their labor and the cost of their fertilizers, and be out of bondage. But suppose again, that a home institution steps forward and advances them the cash to purchase supplies and fertilizers, taking the same rate of interest as they now pay, what then? While to the farmer it would make no difference in the amount paid, it would retain the amount paid as interest in circulation in the community. And that would be an item worth saving. The agents of the fertilizers would doubtless prefer to sell for cash. It is certainly to the interest of the farmer to pay it.

We should be independent of New York, although it is considered a money centre. Before the war the breaking of a bank caused a reduction in the circulation of the currency. Now it does not. All the monetary panics now are created by the stock-gamblers—the bulls and bears of Wall Street, New York—for purposes of speculation—we almost wrote peculation.)

The only way that the South can be affected by the breaking of a Northern bank is where a Southern bank has deposits in it; then the bank is affected to the extent of her deposits.

The breaking of a National Bank does not affect the currency circulation of the country. The immediate patrons of the bank are the only losers. The bills of the broken bank are worth ten per cent immediately. If we would be free from the convulsions of Wall street and the fluctuations of cotton, we must steer clear of the Scylla of over-stimulation on the one hand and the Charybdis of exhaustion on the other. We must retain as much money in circulation at home as possible. One dollar saved is two dollars made.

The capital of a country is made up of petty sums saved week by week and united in a mass for the common good. It not only makes money, but elevates the moral tone of society by creating thrift, economy and good habits among the people.

One of the best means to accomplish the creation of a home capital is in the establishing of Savings banks They can do more towards reform than any other institution. Let the farmer then, the mechanic, the artisan, the merchant encourage the formation of these institutions in every community. For the information of our readers we give the following tables for which we are indebted to the Dollar Savings Bank of this city. Read and ponder them:

A deposit of one dollar per week will, at seven per cent interest, produce the following result:

In 5 years	$ 350 80
In 10 years	805 65
In 15 years	1,455 90
In 20 years	2,307 50
In 25 years	4,939 84
Amount deposited in 30 years—$52 each year	1,500 60
Accumulation of interest on same	2,429 84
	$3,989 84

A deposit of five dollars per week will, at 7 per cent. interest, produce the following result:

In 5 years	$ 1,554 10
In 10 years	4,111 60
In 15 years	7,279 60
In 20 years	11,537 18
Amount deposited in 20 years	5,200 00
Accumulation of interest	6,337 28
	$11,537 28

One hundred dollars stock, compounded at 10 per cent. every six months for 21 years will be $5,466 00.

THE COURTS.

The Grand Jurors in the Superior Court—Day Spent over one Equity Case—Proceedings in the Justices' Courts, &c., &c., &c.

Fulton Superior Court.

This Court met promptly at half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning, His Honor, Judge Hopkins, presiding.

The following gentlemen were sworn in upon the Grand Jury for the present week:

JOHN A. DOANE, Foreman.

Samuel E. Morris,	Henry W. Avery,
Joseph Thompson, Jr.,	William S. Grambling,
Elijah M. Donahoe,	Donald M. Baine,
Andrew J. West,	John B. Daniel,
John T. Hagan,	James M. Chapman,
Edward Powers,	John R. Bridwell,
Martin Lord,	Hiram A. Woodruff,
Clinton I. Brown,	Henry E. Jordan.

In the case of J. H. Porter vs. W. R. Phillips, complaint, which was concluded on Friday just at the hour of adjournment, the jury have returned the following verdict: "We the jury, find for the plaintiff $420 and interest from the 25th of April, 1867."

The case of William West vs. Sarah A. Rose, Bill &c., in Equity, was called just after the convention of the Court yesterday morning. Its trial occupied the whole day. At five o'clock, when Court adjourned, the introduction of the evidence had just been completed. The subject of this controversy is a city lot of land, valued at about $1000, the title of which is in dispute.

Messrs. Hillyer & Bro, and L. B. Blockly represent the complainants.

Messrs. Collier, Mynatt & Collier, and Thrasher & Thrasher contra.

The argument will occur this morning.

The United States Commissioner's Court.

Legal items were exceedingly dull here during yesterday, but promise to be much brighter to-day. Quite a large batch of United States prisoners were expected here last night upon the State Road train, and more will come in to-night. The parties are all charged with violations of the distillery laws in some way or another, with possibly a few Ku-Klux varations. We will keep our readers posted as to the disposition of these cases

We regret to learn that scarcely a day now passes without the advent of some new bankrupt cases in the Clerk's office. This speaks badly for the business welfare of the several communities from whence they come, and we hope the last have arrived.

The Justice's Courts.

Before Justice E. W. Munday yesterday was tried the case of the State vs. Micagey Green, colored, for larceny after trust. He was charged with appropriating some four dollars out of the proceeds of a half barrel of fish valued at $5 40, fraudulently to his own use, and on or about the 28 h day of December, 1872, after hearing some of the evidence the prosecution changed their mind, withdrew the warrant, paid the costs, and turned Green loose.

Justice Sesseen was sorely disturbed yesterday with one of the inevitable dog cases. These cases will afflict magistrates once in a while, and they should try to endure them with a spirit of Christian resignation. This case, we learn, was settled by the parties, and fortunately without a division of the dog.

Station House Report.

The police made seven arrests yesterday. Six were for violations of the City Statutes—being drunk and disorderly.

The other arrest was of a colored gentleman, who has, for some time past, been doing a very profitable business in the cow line. His name is Simon Williams. He would steal a cow from one man, and sell her to another, and was on a fair way to fortune, when his cow-trade was unfortunately interrupted by officers Bonnel and Drake. He offered to sell these gentlemen a cow for $30, but finally concluded he would take $21. Their suspicion being aroused, they brought him and his cow to the Station House, where the owner of the cow soon put in an appearance, and claimed his property. He is also recognized as the man who stole cows from Dr. William Lawshe, Mr. Culberson and T. R. Ripley. He will be held for trial, and we sincerely trust will meet with such a reward as his talents merit.

THE CHURCHES.

How Sunday Was Spent in Our City.

Interesting Discourses by Visiting Clergymen.

The Central Presbyterian Church.

The congregation of this Church enjoyed quite a treat in hearing two discourses from the Rev Doctor Nalls, of Alabama. This gentleman is beyond question one of the ablest men that has ever appeared in a pulpit here. The attendance to hear him was large and he impressed all very deeply. His discourse Sunday night was upon God's great love for the world and the sacrifice he had made to save it. He handled his topic in a most masterly manner. At the conclusion of his sermon he requested that all who realized their need of God's saving grace to follow their pastor, Mr. Leftwich, into the basement of the Church. More than one third of the large congregation accepted the invitation.

Great religious interest is being manifested among the members of this Church and congregation. Their nightly meetings are being largely attended, and will be continued through the present week. All are invited.

The Second Baptist Church.

The services here were conducted by Dr. Spalding in the morning, and by Dr. Shaver in the evening. Some 10 or 12 persons were received into the church on last Sabbath. Their large attendance is steadily increasing. The great religious interest among the members is still prevailing with undiminished fervor. Prayer meetings will be held each night this week. Immediately after the general prayer-meeting, the young men of the church and congregation will hold their meeting, and many of them are working unceasingly in this good cause. The public are invited to attend.

First Methodist Church.

The two services last Sabbath at this popular place of worship were conducted by a stranger—the Rev Mr. Peterson, of Virginia. We had the pleasure of hearing his evening discourse, and it was unusually fine. He preached from the text "But none of these things move me," and pictured with much feeling the suffering of the early apostles—Paul especially, and drew many useful lessons therefrom. The attendance at the Church was large, and the sermon was evidently productive of much interest and effect.

DEATH OF PETER HUGE.—This old and well known citizen was buried yesterday afternoon. Being a good Catholic, the funeral services were conducted in that church. Mr. Huge was among the oldest of our citizens. He was some 58 or 59 years of age, and had spent most of his life here. His death occurred at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, of rheumatism. He leaves a wife 81 years old, but no children of his own. His wife was a widow with children when he married her. A large number of friends attended the funeral. There were some forty carriages in the procession. We extend our sympathies to his friends and relatives.

REVIVALS.—The revival at the Central Presbyterian Church continues with unabated interest. Rev. Dr. Nalls, of Alabama, preached on Sunday, and will remain for several days. Great feeling was manifested by some fifty or sixty persons on Sunday. The meetings will be continued during the week in the lecture room.

On Sunday morning at the Second Baptist Church, sixteen were received into full fellowship, and four were baptized at night. The revival still continues, and the young men of the church are laboring with zeal and efficiency.

THANKS OF THE ROSE-BUD UNION.—Editors Constitution: Please allow us additional space in your columns to return our sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown to us. First, to the press of the city for their liberality in giving publicity to our festival; to Messrs. Law & Co., for so kindly placing at our disposal "anything in their crockery store;" to Mr. J. G. Thrower, for his able and timely assistance from the Good Templars' Hall; to the ladies who entered with such enthusiasm into the interests of the Union, and for their contributions of refreshments; to the young ladies and gentlemen who assisted in the musical department; last, though not least, to the intelligent audience, for their presence and appreciation of our humble efforts to please and for their material aid in furthering the object of our organization.

By order of the Rose Bud Union.

BUNNIE LOVE, President.

LIZZIE NORRIS, Secretary.
Atlanta, May 10, 1873.

EDUCATION.—We regret to learn that in some of the counties of the State county boards of education have taken no action at all, and consequently the county will lose their pro rata share of the school fund The time was extended by the State School Commissioner until May 10th.

The Board, or any member of it may be removed by the Judge of the Superior Court, on address of two thirds of the Grand Jury, for inefficiency, etc. We trust that the Grand Juries in each county will thoroughly sift the matter, and remove all Boards who accept and take the oath of office and fail or refuse to discharge the duties of that office.

The State School Commissioner informs us that under the law, the quota of DeKalb county this year would have been about $2,200. The failure of the Board to do anything will debar that county from receiving it. The school population of the county is reported at 2,988.

County Boards receive as compensation for service exemption from Road, Jury and Militia duty. If they merely hold the office without performing the service required by law, they are not entitled to exemption.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The last Legislature passed an act establishing a Criminal Court in DeKalb, Henry, and Carroll counties. It confers jurisdiction on Notaries Public and Justices of the Peace in town militia districts, to try and determine all criminal cases below the grade of felony, which may be brought before them.

The act provides that the defendant must be brought into Court by accusation upon which shall be entered and signed by the accused: "A Waiver of Indictment by a Grand Jury;" and when ever the defendant requests, he shall be tried by a jury of twelve men, made up by strikes from a list of eighteen. If the said Justice, in entertaining a case, discovers that the offense comes within the degree of Felony, then the Act provides that they shall, in that case, bind the defendant over or commit him to jail for his appearance at the Superior Court.

The bill was introduced by Representative Masters, of DeKalb, and was designed to save the county the expense of keeping parties in jail charged with these offences until they could be tried by a Superior Court.

PERSONAL.—Colonel Robert W. Scott, of Frankfort, Ky., a noted raiser of live stock, is now in the city, the guest of Judge J. A. Hayden. Colonel Scott spends his winters at Melonville, Fla., and is delighted with the climate of Florida.

Colonel T. J. Willingham and family left for South Carolina on a visit to his relations.

Hon M A Candler left for Little Rock, Arkansas, as a delegate to the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly last night.

Mr J Peetrey, the energetic Secretary of the Home Insurance Company, of Columbus, Ohio, is in the city. Messrs. Walker & Boyd are the agents for this city.

At the Kimball House last night we noted the following arrivals:

J C Floyd and family, Norcross; G H Snyder, Rome; R W Cole, Nashville; Miss Russell, Augusta; R G Thomas, New York; J S White, Americus; H H Fay, Boston; Alexander Clarke, Pittsburg; W D Prout, Mobile; S G McLendon, W McLendon, Thomasville; Ben Chase, Paducah, Ky; Hon B M Long, Carrollton.

We noted the following arrivals at the National Hotel yesterday: P R Hutchins, Duluth; W C Tilton, Hon. C D McCutchen, Dalton; Hon A C McCalla, Conyers; St. W Hawkins, Covington; John Manly, J L Dean, Charleston, Hon. N L Hutchins, Lawrenceville; G W Howard, Montgomery, Alabama; W A Parks, Marietta; W S Robinson, Nashville, Tenn.;

Charles Lanceford has returned to his post at the National. The country air didn't agree with him.

The handsome beaver of Tyler M. Peeples, "the fashion and sporting editor" of the Lawrenceville Herald was seen on our streets yesterday, over the well-developed cranium of that poetical genius.

NOTICE.—One of the best recommendations of Jackson's Magic Balsam is, that in the town of Barnesville, where the medicine is manufactured, 1,500 bottles have been sold and not a single bottle has failed to give satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

apr20—dtf

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—Jackson's Magic Balsam has cured Jerry Tate, of Barnesville, Georgia, of a thirty years' rheumatism in his hip. A 25 cents bottle did the deed.

Just think of it, 25 cents' worth of Jackson's Magic Balsam, two applications, curing a case of rheumatism in the hip joint of Jerry Tate, of Barnesville, Georgia, of thirty years' standing.

Sold by Redwine & Fox, George Howard, Henry Pope, and all druggists.

DRUGGISTS, grocers, supply dealers and dry goods merchants, are writing to the proprietor of Jackson's Magic Balsam every day, soliciting agencies to sell the Balsam, and why is this? Two reasons why. One is its own merits. The other is, its merits are made known through the columns of the newspapers.

NO POSTPONEMENT.—It is not wise to put off until the heats of summer have commenced the invigorating process which would have secured the system, in advance, against this untoward influence. By toning the stomach, liver and bowels in the spring months with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and continuing to take this harmless but powerful vegetable invigorant during the summer, it is quite certain that even persons who are naturally delicate and deficient in vital force may escape the fits of indigestion, headache, nausea, biliousness, nervous debility and mental oppression which, in the absence of such preparation, often prostrate and agonize the more robust. A pure stimulant, medicated with the juices of the finest tonic, anti-billous and aperient roots and herbs, as an invaluable boon to the weak and ailing, and this life-sustaining boon in the form of Hostetter's Bitters, is fortunately within the reach of all.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

FOR 1873.

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

THE FAVORITE OF ALL CLASSES.

Lawyers, Merchants, Farmers, Etc.

TWELVE REASONS FOR SUBSCRIBING

1. THE CONSTITUTION is published at the Capital of the State, and contains Proceedings of the Legislature in full, together with constant and accurate information of the actings of all the Departments of the State Government.

2. It has the sole and exclusive right of publishing the DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT from the Reporter of the Court. These Decisions are delivered on Monday of every week and are immediately published in THE CONSTITUTION. Hence every lawyer in Georgia should take the paper, and the great proportion are subscribers.

3. THE CONSTITUTION is the Official Journal of the State, of the city of Atlanta and a large number of counties.

4. THE CONSTITUTION publishes a weekly Cotton Editorial, embracing remarks on the Gold Premium and all matters affecting the cotton trade, with statistics difficult to be obtained elsewhere. Producers and dealers in cotton, not alone in Georgia, but all over the country, procure THE CONSTITUTION for these articles.

5. THE CONSTITUTION furnishes Telegraphic Dispatches and news from all quarters of the globe, including markets, domestic and foreign. Hence the paper is popular with merchants everywhere.

6. Besides our Daily Associated Press Dispatches, THE CONSTITUTION has specials from Washington, the National Capital.

7. Its Correspondence Department is unsurpassed in the South, having special correspondents at Washington, New York, and in various parts of the country.

8. THE CONSTITUTION publishes a monthly Fashion Letter from New York, written by the most celebrated female Fashion writer in the United States. The ladies, therefore, all want THE CONSTITUTION.

9. A new feature for this year will be Weekly European Correspondence, by which the readers of THE CONSTITUTION will be taken on a tour through Europe.

10. The ablest writers and statesmen of Georgia select THE CONSTITUTION to give their views to the public, and so do the PEOPLE, and hence it is the admitted leading Democratic Journal of the State.

11. The two great specialities, our SUPREME COURT DECISIONS for the lawyers, and our COTTON articles for the merchants and farmers, make THE CONSTITUTION unrivalled in this part of the South.

12. For the reasons given above, THE CONSTITUTION is the paper for all classes, lawyers, merchants, farmers, mechanics and others, circulates in every county of Georgia, has the largest State circulation and is, therefore, the favorite medium for ADVERTISING.

Every Georgian should, after taking his own local paper, subscribe for THE CONSTITUTION, published at the Capital of his State; and we would here return thanks to the people for a patronage, that has culminated in the grandest newspaper success known in the Southern States. THE CONSTITUTION, not yet five years old, has attained a circulation never reached by a Daily paper in Georgia, and has erected a magnificent five-story building of its own, as complete as any in the United States, giving employment to seventy or eighty persons daily, and running a half dozen presses by steam. Visitors to Atlanta are cordially invited to call and examine THE CONSTITUTION building and its powerful presses, printing four or five thousand papers per hour.

Hints About Houses.

Many houses, from the mansion to the cottage, are unwholesome for the following reasons:

1. Damp basements.
2. Cesspools and foul drains within the basement.
3. Rotten timbers in floors and skirtings and tainted wall-paper.
4. Kitchen sinks in improper places and unventilated.
5. Water-closets in improper places and unventilated.
6. Rooms without adequate means for ventilation.
7. Water-cisterns and pumps in improper places, and so the water is contaminated.

Houses are also unwholesome from personal dirt, personal carelessness, and personal neglect. As when:

1. Rooms are not sufficiently cleaned.
2. Carpets are left down too long and never swept.
3. Windows are seldom opened at the top.
4. Closets are dirty, neglected, and without ventilation.
5. Dirty beds are unmade and are also shrouded by dirty hangings.
6. Dirty wardrobes and dirty clothes closets.
7. Nooks, corners, and shelves which are never dusted.

Persons who are about to build dwelling houses should have the following suggestions in mind:

The subsoil beneath a house should be naturally dry, or it should be made dry by land-draining.

The ground floor of a house should not be below the level of the land, street, or road outside.

A site excavated on the side of a hill or steep bank is liable to be dangerous. As external ventilation may be defective, and the subsoil water from above may soak toward and beneath such houses, middens, ashpits, cesspools at the back must taint such basements.

The subsoil within every basement should have a layer of concrete over it.

Cesspools, cesspits, sink holes, or drains should not be formed within house basements.

The ground around dwelling houses should be paved, flagged, asphalted, covered with concrete, or be prepared and graveled.

Outside channels should be in good order and be regularly cleaned.

House eaves should be guttered and spouted.

Blood Horse Notes.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Banner of Tuesday last has the following, apropos to the Spring meeting of the Blood Horse Association, which will begin on Tuesday next, the 13th:

Some seven or eight stables arrived at the track yesterday evening. The horses belonging to Rice, Cadwallader and Jennings will not be here to take part in our meeting next week. There will be enough on hand, however, to swell the number to about fifty-five, and as the list embraces several first class nags, exciting contests will be the order.

The stable of Mr. A. C. Franklin, of Gallatin, arrived at the course yesterday. It is composed of Arizona, Nevada, Gorlitza and Glencoe.

General Harding's stable, embracing six or seven fast ones, will arrive at the track in a day or two.

There is already a lively interest manifested in the expected meeting of Nashville, Joe Johnston and Alice Mitchell in the Belmont stake, on the first day of our meeting, and a great deal of quiet betting is going on. If the renowned son of Malcolm don't teach the outsiders a lesson just once, then the knowing ones are very much mistaken.

Mr. George Darden has been appointed Secretary of the Nashville Blood Horse Association, a position he filled most acceptably in former years.

George Rice has brought the famous four miler, Anna Bush, to General Harding's place, to be bred to Bonnie Scotland.

A couple of evenings since, a wealthy gentleman who knows a thing or two about "horse," offered to bet $500 that Joe Johnston would beat Alice Mitchell in the Belmont stake race.

The relative merits of the starters in the Belmont is the great topic of discussion in turf circles.

It is expected that Frank Hampton, Arizona, Euchre and Quartermaster, will meet in the three in five race on the fourth day of the meeting. It wouldn't be an easy matter to pick the winner from that crowd.

Select crowds are attracted to the race course every morning to see the horses work, and get "points."

Choir Singers in New York.

Choir singing in New York is fast becoming very lucrative. The tariff of salaries has been greatly enhanced of late. A few years ago $1,000 was considered a very large stipend for an organist, while $500 to $800 easily satisfied the most exacting soprano. Now, however, there are a dozen or more organists who receive from $2,000 to $3,000 a year, and the average soprano thinks he is but poorly remunerated with $1,000. One body of eminence in the musical profession recently declined the offer of a five thousand dollar salary from one of our principal churches. Two thousand dollars are paid in several instances. Tenors who for last year sang for a thousand dollars, this year demand and receive fifteen hundred. Bassos and altos, of course, show the general rise of musical values. Christ Church is investing heavily in music. The choir of that church costs $10,000 per year, of which Rufus Hatch, the banker, pays $3,000. Mr. F. Packard, now the tenor at St. Paul's, Boston, goes to this church, where he will receive a salary of $2,500 a year and Mr. Nelson Varley, the English tenor, who accompanied Mme. Rudersdorff to this country, will be added to the same choir, where is already one of the best bassos, M. H. Whitney, who receives for his services $3,000 a year. Mrs. H. M. Smith has also just completed an engagement with the church at $4,200 a year, and offers almost as lucrative have been made to Mrs. J. N. Osgood, now the soprano of the Old South Church in Boston.

Fun from the Danbury News.

A cotemporary calls his items "Nits," to show that he gets them out of his own head.

A Danbury bride received among her wedding gifts a receipted bill of eight dollars for gate hinges from her father.

A youth who wears the latest style of sleeve studs cannot be expected to bring up a scuttle of coal while his mother is around.

Five years ago we found a great difficulty in raising $150. Now scarcely a mail arrives that some banker does not solicit our paper.

The weather is getting warm enough to permit female neighbors to lean over the fence and talk about the people across the way.

It is estimated that there are sixteen thousand rural poets waiting for the advent of spring. There is certainly something keeping the season back.

It is about time the little girl who jumps the rope three hundred times without stopping, to the delight of her parents and the nearest undertaker, made her appearance.

It is a little singular how much valuable time a man will take up in studying the post-mark of a letter to see where it comes from, when he can open the letter and find out at once.

When you see a dead man in the road, with long hair, no underclothing, and his boots run down at the heel, you may be confident it is a newspaper man, murdered for his money.

Alanson Chase's hen which laid the monstrous big eggs spoken of in our late issue, expired on Saturday, while engaged in an attempt to transcend all preceding efforts. She now lays with her mother.

Personal Items.

Frederick Douglass is going to give a lecture course in England.

The Rev. Dr. Chapin, of New York, received a present of $10,000 on Thursday, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his pastorate of the Fourth Universalist Society of that city.

Henry Earmer, of New Haven, Conn., whose guest the President is to be at his approaching visit to that city, has received all the way from Illinois four elegant chestnut horses, which are to draw the carriage in which the President is to be driven through the streets.

It is rumored that James Gordon Bennett is making preparations to establish a new daily in London, an old idea of his father's.

It is understood that Judge Chase was worth from $150,000 to $200,000 at the time of his death.

It is now charged that the gentleman who was chosen to preside over the Illinois Farmers' Convention the first day was a railroad lobbyist.

WHY WILL YE DIE?—Death, or what is worse, is the inevitable result of continued suspension of the menstrual flow. It is a condition which should not be trifled with. Immediate relief is the only safeguard against constitutional ruin. In all cases of suppression, suspension or other irregularity of the "courses," Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is the only sure remedy. It acts by giving tone to the nervous centres, improving the blood and determining directly to the organs of menstruation. It is a legitimate prescription, and the most intelligent Doctors use it. Prepared by J. H. Bradfield, druggist, Atlanta, Ga; $1 50 per bottle, and sold by respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. TUTTS VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS.

The startling drawback on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been that in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would

PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN
At one and the same time.

Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which fully realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved. The important desideratum is

Dr. Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produces no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heretofore irreconcilable qualities of a STRENGTHENING PURGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC.

Dr. Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of diseases, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival. Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists. Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.

EVERY Enterprise that looks for support beyond the county in which it is located should advertise in the papers of the sections from which it could reasonably expect to obtain custom. We make prompt insertion at low rates, in all papers of the United States and Canada. Our lists of secular, religious and agricultural journals are STANDARD. Estimates, pamphlets, etc., free upon application.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'
EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.
